

From October 23-27, 2016, the Philadelphia Marriott Downtown Hotel located in Philadelphia, PA, USA, will host a convention for nearly 2,000 engineers, architects, contractors, manufacturers, educators and material representatives from around the world. At this event attendees will collaborate on concrete standards, codes and specifications. There will also be technical and educational sessions that will provide participants with the latest research, case studies, best practices as well as the opportunity to early Professional Development Hours (PDHs).

The Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware Chapter of ACI will be hosting the convention this fall, as an opportunity to showcase the companies, projects, current events, and landmarks that inspired the convention theme of Revolutionary Concrete.

Date - October 23-27

Location - Marriott Philadelphia | Philadelphia, PA, USA

Click below for more information on the event:

www.aciconvention.org