

SmartRock™ is a rugged wireless sensor for monitoring concrete temperature at the construction job site. The temperature data can be accessed to using a mobile application, and can be further analyzed to estimate the real-time strength of concrete. Please watch this short video on the field application of SmartRock™.